

Bharat Diamond Bourse Demand

BDB Demand is an online portal where diamond brokers and traders can post their demand online and get an instant response to their requirements. The purpose of this website is to give diamond traders a platform to share their demand with all the other traders in the market as opposed to the current scenario where only a few known traders whom you are in contact with know about your demand.

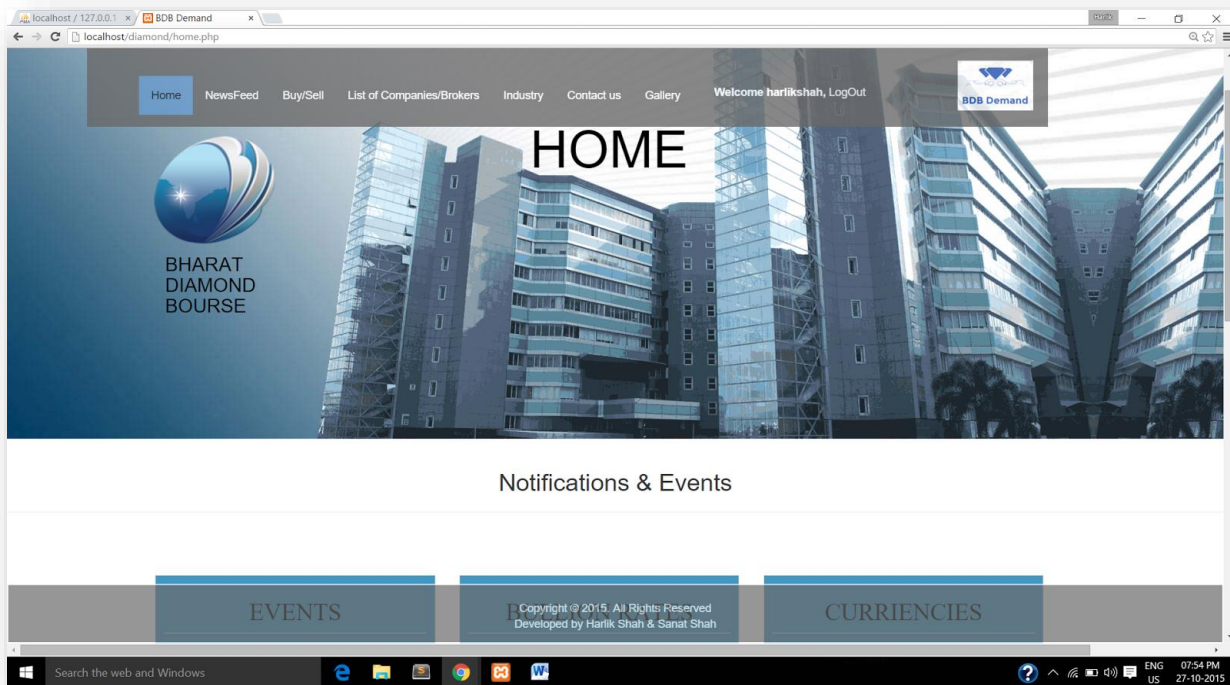

Diamond traders will first log in to the website. Then they will fill in the buy/sell form according to the specifications of the diamond they require. Specifications include shape, color, clarity, fluorescence, certification and whether this requirement is to be bought or to be sold. This information is then posted on the newsfeed of the website.

User can then find his requirement from the demands posted on the newsfeed. He can also filter his search by choosing a particular shape, color scale, clarity scale, fluorescence and certification.

The list of all diamond brokers and trading companies registered on the website are displayed with their contact details. Latest news of the Bharat Diamond Bourse and latest photos are also updated on the website.
